

Short Course in Global Health and Sustainable Development Post-2015

The Faculty of Health Sciences at AUB and EARTH University are happy to announce the launch of the first course from the newly developing Global Master's in Health and Sustainable Development this summer! As the first course to be delivered, we are providing considerable financial support and encourage all who are interested and eligible to apply now!

The full announcement and details are attached – application deadline is April 15, 2015, and the course is taking in only 15 students.

Maha Damaj, PhD

Assistant Professor of Public Health Practice

Co-coordinator of the Global Master's in Health & Sustainable Development Project

Download \(PDF, 201KB\)